SYNOPSIS:

On Monday, June 24, 2019, at about 1043 hours, Lemon Grove and Rancho San Diego Deputies responded to a 911 call of a man bleeding in the street at the 7200 block of Pacific Avenue in Lemon Grove. According to reporting parties, the victim was possibly hit on the head with a bat and metal pipe. One reporting party stated the victim may have been struck with an axe that was found near the scene. It was later determined the axe was not used in the incident. Upon arrival, deputies located a 43 year old black male, lying on the sidewalk, bleeding from a laceration to the head. According to witnesses, four black males in a light blue vehicle chased the victim to the 7400 block of Pacific Avenue where they beat him on the body and head with a long stick, and a metal pipe. Heartland Fire and Paramedics responded to the scene, treated the victim, and transported him to Scripps Mercy Hospital. While investigating the incident, deputies located a possible suspect vehicle on Daytona Street in Lemon Grove.

Deputies contacted a group of males associated to the vehicle that were suspected to have been involved in the incident. A 25 year old suspect, identified as Terrell Mallard, admitted to the assault and was subsequently booked into the San Diego Central Jail. Additionally, a 15 year old male suspect who also admitted to the assault was transported to the Lemon Grove Sheriff's Station where he was charged and released
