Upon arrival, they met with the homeowner and her adult son who explained they heard a knock at the front door. When the adult son opened the door, three unknown masked male suspects, who were armed with weapons, forced their way into the home. Once inside, one of the suspects struck the adult son in his head and, as a result, he sustained minor injuries. The three suspects fled from the residence in an unknown direction after taking miscellaneous property from inside the house. The homeowner was unharmed while her son was transported to the hospital for further treatment of his non-life-threatening injuries.
